WHY WE SHOULD ALL KNOW THE SYMPTOMS

Sepsis is a life-threatening condition, caused when the body overreacts to an infection. It kills 44,000 people a year in the UK – yet it’s treatable if caught early. The problem is, sepsis is often mistaken for other conditions such as flu, gastroenteritis or a chest infection, or dismissed as a simple fever in children. So in many cases, sepsis is not diagnosed in time for people to get the treatment they need.

That’s why everyone should know the signs of sepsis. And if you think someone may have sepsis, just ask: “Could it be sepsis?”

ADULTS

An adult may have sepsis if they show any of these signs:

- Slurred speech or confusion
- Extreme shivering or muscle pain
- Passing no urine (in a day)
- Severe breathlessness
- It feels like you’re going to die
- Skin mottled or discoloured

CHILDREN

A child may have sepsis if he or she:

- Is breathing very fast
- Has a ‘fit’ or convulsion
- Looks mottled, bluish, or pale
- Has a rash that does not fade when you press it
- Very lethargic or difficult to wake
- Feels abnormally cold to touch

WHAT TO DO IF YOU SUSPECT SEPSIS:

Call 111 or contact your GP if you’re worried about an infection.

Call 999 or visit A&E if someone has one of the sepsis symptoms.

JUST ASK “COULD IT BE SEPSIS?”

STREETS AGAINST SEPSIS

Our ‘Streets Against Sepsis’ campaign is encouraging local communities to look out for each other and learn the signs of sepsis.
